shall be made at the time of filling out the registration card at the beginning of the senior year, and the major professor shall definitely enter upon the student's card either the thesis or the preparation for the special examination, allowing suitable credit therefor, not to exceed four semester hours for the year. The use of the phrase "Major Subject" is not intend-

"In acceding to the request of Miss Leach to be relieved of her position as Reference Librarian, the faculty of the University of Oregon wish to assure her of the very sincere reluctance with which they are now to lose her from her wonted place in Library Hall. The library, for these many years, has been like a home, Miss Leach its kindly hostess. The books have been the students' friends, largely through the introduction given them by the patient "Mistress of the Manse". If Miss Leach was ever missed from her genial throne behind the distributing desk, it was because she was among the stacks, uncomplainingly guiding some forlorn student to the desired volume.

The faculty take this informal way of expressing their unstinted appreciation of Miss Leach's devoted and sympathetic services, and their cordial regret that she is finding it essential, in her own desire, to leave a position which has seemed and especially her own.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES
The following report of the Committee on Committees was received:

To the Faculty of the University:
Your Committee on Committees beg leave to report as follows:

In respect to the two special items referred to this committee at the last meeting of the faculty we recommend that the matter of announcing new courses be referred to the Administration and the Department concerned.

Regarding changes in the recitation schedule, we suggest that as far as practicable three-hour subjects be scheduled on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and two-hour subjects on Tuesday and Thursday. We believe, however, that it is both unwise and unnecessary to make a stringent rule to this effect, and suggest that individual cases of difficulty be adjusted by consultation with a view to accommodating the greatest number.

With reference to the main matter referred to this committee at its inception, we recommend:

First, that the following standing committees of the Faculty be abolished:

The Academic Council.
The Committee on University Extension.
The Committee on Examinations and Senior Credits.

Second, that the President of the University be added to the Library Committee.

Third, that the whole question of special students and conditions in entrance requirements students should be raised and referred to a special committee.

Fourth, that the committee on appointments consist of the Head of the Department of Education and the heads of the departments training teachers.

Fifth, that the faculty establish a standing committee of seven members on University publications.

Sixth, that the President be requested to appoint a statistical secretary on committees.
Seventh, that the Faculty should take cognizance of the probable near approach of the time when the University must be re-organized into separate schools and colleges, and that consideration of this matter should be undertaken in the near future.

Moved and carried that Article I be adopted with the exception that the Senior Credits Committee be made a committee of one.

The President was added to the Library Committee. The report as amended was adopted.

Dr. Schmidt gave notice that at the next meeting of the faculty he would move to amend the rule regarding incompletes and conditions to read as follows:

"Incompletes and conditions must be removed within one year, otherwise the record will be changed to "Failure". In removing a condition no grade higher than a "P" can be given. If the student is not in residence the following term the work must be made up within one year after his return to college."

Moved and carried that Professor Barker be allowed to put one of his examinations ahead of the schedule.

CREDIT FOR DEBATING

The following recommendation of the Committee on Student Activities was adopted:

Recommended that hereafter the faculty instead of exercising its discretion in individual cases in granting University credit to debaters, hereby reduces its practice to automatic rules, as follows:

I. Credit shall be granted only for debating work done under the direction of the instructor and under conditions equivalent to those of a regular university class. The instructor shall assume the full regular responsibility for quantity and quality of work, and grant credit and failures on this basis, regardless of the success or failure of the teams.

II. Credit shall be three semester hours for members of the teams, and two semester hours for alternates.

III. Recommendation for credit must come before the faculty for action, as at present, in all cases in which the student has any mark in any subject for the current semester of lower grade than "M".

IV. As the debating season does not correspond with either semester, and as it is not desirable that the student shall be limited to 13 hours for the non-debating portion of the year, these rules constitute for their own purposes an amendment to the general rule limiting the number of studies a student is allowed to take.

REVISION OF RULES REGARDING ABSENCES

The following report of the Committee for the revision of rules regarding daily absences from class was adopted, superseding all previous rules regarding this subject:

I. That all instructors be asked to make a daily report of absences from their classes.

II. That any student not present at at least eighty percent of the recitations in any subject be debarred from examination in that subject.

III. That one-sixteenth of a semester hour be deducted for each absence, which fine shall be made cumulative during the entire course, provided, however, that when a student is refused examination under paragraph II above, that no extra credit shall be deducted for such absences.

IV. Extraordinary cases of absences may be considered by the Deans acting as a committee at the end of each semester, with power to act.
