CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION	6
HBE FOR ARCHAEOLOGISTS	7
THE BOOK BEFORE YOU	11
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	13
SUGGESTED READINGS	13
CHAPTER 2: TWO VIEWS OF THE FOOD QUEST.....	15
INTRODUCTION	15
THE CALIFORNIA ARCHAIC DEBATE.....	17
Evidence for Elevated Consumption of Artiodactyls	17
Costly Signaling in the California Middle Archaic	19
Diet Breadth in the California Archaic	21
THE FORMAL MODELS	23
The Show-Off and Costly Signaling Models	23
The Diet breadth (Or, Resource Selection) Model	26
Pursuit and Handling, Costs and Benefits, in the northern Great Basin	32
Hunting Hoppers: Return Rates and the Mass Harvesting of Small Prey	34
Diet Breadth, A Summary in Modern Terms	36
NOTES ON HBE THEORY I.....	38
A Minor Digression into Avian Territoriality	38
Neo-Darwinism	40
Alternative hypotheses	42
Costs and Benefits	42
Testing	43
SUMMARY.....	44
SUGGESTED READINGS	45
CHAPTER 3: COLONIZATION AND RELATED ADAPTATIONS TO HABITAT STRUCTURE	49
INTRODUCTION	49
THE IDEAL FREE DISTRIBUTION (IFD)	51
The Basic IFD Model	52
The Allee Effect	58
Colonization of the Pacific Islands	63
Prehistory of the Santa Barbara Channel Islands	71
THE MARGINAL VALUE THEOREM (MVT)	77
The Basic MVT Model	78
Pleistocene Extinction	81
Partial Consumption	82
NOTES ON HBE THEORY II	86
Simplifying Assumptions	86
Two key concepts: Marginal Value & Opportunity Costs	88
SUMMARY.....	91
SUGGESTED READINGS	92
CHAPTER 4: GROUPS AND THE EFFECTS OF CENTRAL PLACES	98
BASIC ISSUES	99
Benefits and Costs of Group Formation	99
Optimal Group size: Balancing the Interests of Members and Joiners	104

CENTRAL PLACES AND THEIR EFFECTS ON PRODUCTION.....	108
Where to Reside and When to Move	108
Central Place Foraging (CPF)	113
Field Processing	119
CASE STUDIES OF CPF, FIELD PROCESSING, TRANSPORT AND CACHING.....	129
Black Oak Acorns and Mussels	129
Toolstone Reduction at Quarry and Settlement	134
Plant Utility Indices for Pickleweed and Pinyon	137
Pinyon and Adaptive Diversity in the Great Basin	145
Central Place Transport of Mammalian Body Parts	147
Caching Behavior	151
NOTES ON HBE THEORY III.....	154
SUMMARY.....	159
SUGGESTED READINGS.....	159
CHAPTER 5: INTENSIFICATION AND THE ORIGINS OF AGRICULTURE	168
NICHE CONSTRUCTION: UNINTENDED TO INTENTIONAL.....	168
INTENSIFICATION	168
The Late Holocene Broad Spectrum “Revolution”	168
Conservation and Exploitation in Prehistory	173
PLANT DOMESTICATION AND THE ORIGINS OF AGRICULTURE	173
Plant Domestication in the Neotropics	173
Other Case Studies from Kennett and Winterhalder (eds)	182
DELAYED RETURN ECONOMIES AND THE ROLE OF DISCOUNTING.....	182
Delayed Returns and Discounting	182
Discounting and Animal Domestication	182
ADAPTIVE DEVELOPMENTS RELATED TO INTENSIFICATION	182
A Model of Technological Development	183
Population, and the Origin and Preservation of Adaptive Information	183
NOTES ON HBE THEORY IV.....	183
SUMMARY.....	183
SUGGESTED READINGS.....	183
CHAPTER 6: EMERGENCE OF SOCIAL RANKING.....	184
FIRST MAJOR TOPIC (GAP IN OUTLINE AFTER THIS)	184
NOTES ON HBE THEORY V.....	184
SUMMARY.....	184
SUGGESTED READINGS.....	184
CHAPTER 7: FORMATION OF INSTITUTIONS AND STATES.....	184
CHAPTER 8: CONCLUSIONS.....	185
