Re: Problem Government

Dear Editor,

It should not surprise any of us, who have witnessed the chaos, incompetence, cruelty and selfish greed of our Republican controlled government over the last few years, to realize that when the party whose motto is "government is the problem", takes over the government, then we all have a big problem. This November, please consider voting for a government that is informed by science and inspired by civic duty and public service to all of America, "from sea to shining sea".
