

CRAFTING A VISION FOR OREGON IN CHANGING TIMES

A free public conversation with

JOHN FREGONESE

Tuesday, March 14, 2006, 7–9 PM

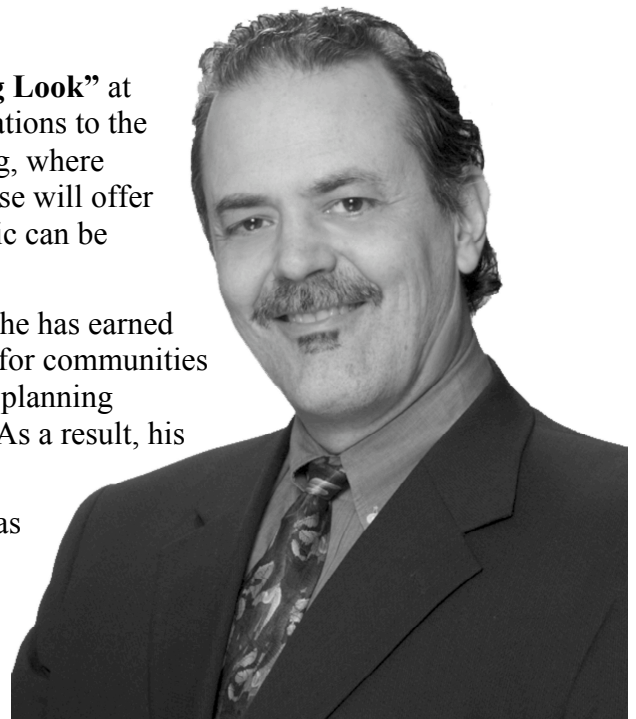

Room 175, Knight Law School, 1515 Agate St., Eugene

For more information, call 343-5201

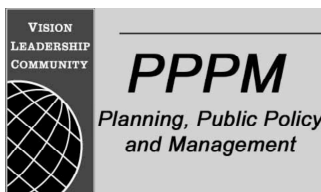

Senate Bill 82 creates a 10-member task force to take a “Big Look” at Oregon's system of land use planning and to make recommendations to the 2007 and 2009 state legislatures. But who should do the looking, where should they look, and how should they look? Mr. John Fregonese will offer his ideas for how to go about the “Big Look” and how the public can be better involved in crafting a vision for Oregon.

Mr. John Fregonese has been a planner for 25 years, where he has earned the reputation of being able to create both an energizing vision for communities and concrete, workable solutions to urban problems. He makes planning interesting, relevant and understandable to the average person. As a result, his projects tend to garner strong public input and support.

Since starting Fregonese Calthorpe Associates in 1997, he has led a variety of planning projects, including regional visioning projects in Austin, Salt Lake City, Nashville, Chicago and Los Angeles; county-wide coordination plans in California and Oregon; and city comprehensive plans and development ordinances in Texas, Vermont, Oregon, Georgia and Colorado.

ENVIRONMENTAL AND NATURAL RESOURCES LAW PROGRAM
University of Oregon

Environmental Policymakers and Planners

Students promoting awareness, opportunities, and educational experiences concerning environmental policy and planning.

Jobs and Land Use Roundtable

A diverse group of citizens engaging in an ongoing civil dialogue about pressing, and often polarizing, issues in our community and working to develop consensus.

Working with Oregonians to enhance our quality of life by building livable urban and rural communities, protecting family farms and forests, and conserving natural and scenic areas.