GER 413
Advanced Language Training: Speaking
(J. Lechner)

German 413 is designed to improve your oral communications skills (listening and speaking). It is aimed at advanced non-native German majors who have successfully completed at least three years of college German or its equivalent. Through discussions of controversial current topics you will expand your vocabulary but also learn about contemporary German culture. A creative group project will also give you ample opportunity to practice your communication skills. Progress will be evaluated on the basis of recorded pronunciation assignments, presentations, reports, vocabulary quizzes, and listening comprehension exercises.
