ABOUT TODAY’S GUEST FACULTY ARTISTS

Described as “ferociously talented”, Grammy-Award winning flutist Molly Alicia Barth is an active solo, chamber, and orchestral musician, specializing in the music of today. As a founding member of the new music sextet eighth blackbird, Barth toured extensively throughout the world, recorded four CDs, and was granted the 2000 Naumburg Chamber Music Award, the 1998, 2000 and 2002 CMA/ASCAP Awards for Adventurous Programming, and first prize at the 1998 Concert Artists Guild International Competition. Barth is assistant professor of flute at the University of Oregon and has taught at Willamette University and held residencies at the University of Chicago and the University of Richmond. She holds degrees from the Oberlin College-Conservatory of Music, Northwestern University, and the Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music.

Lydia Van Dreel is assistant professor of horn at the University of Oregon. A current member of the Eugene Symphony, Van Dreel was previously co-principal horn of the Florida West Coast Symphony, where her duties encompassed not only orchestral horn playing but extensive chamber music and solo performances as well. Van Dreel spends her summers performing as a member of the Colorado Music Festival Orchestra in Boulder, where she has also been a featured soloist. In 2003, she was the second place winner in the professional division of the American Horn Competition. Van Dreel received the Master of Music degree from The Juilliard School and the Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.
