From November 11 to 13, 2011, the Department of Philosophy at the University of Oregon will host the international conference Ética en las Américas/Ethics in the Americas.

The conference will take place at the Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art. The central aim of the conference is the direct encounter between Latin American and North American philosophers with a view to the development of pluralistic ethical thought beyond the current Western European and North American hegemonic structures and configurations of global existence.

The conference is open to the public, and all lectures are free.

For more information, contact avallega@uoregon.edu