PROGRAM

CHAMBER CHOIR

I

Incenerite Spoglie (Beloved Ashes) Claudio Monteverdi from The Tears of a Lover (1567–1647)
at the Tomb of the Beloved

Beloved ashes, the greedy tomb illumined by my earthly sun is now my heaven. Alas, I grieve. I come to bury you in the earth. My heart is buried with thee, my love locked within my breast. And night and day Glauco lives in tears, in fire, in pain, in bitterness and torment.

A Child's Prayer James MacMillan
(b. 1959)

*Welcome Jesu, Deep in my soul forever stay.
Joy and love my heart are filling on this glad Communion day.*

Jaclyn Moses, soprano
Katrina Koch, soprano
Christopher Olin, conductor

Justorum animae C.V. Stanford
(1852–1924)

*The souls of the just are in the hand of God,
and the torment of malice shall not touch them.
In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die,
but they are in peace.*

Christopher Olin, conductor

II

Trois chansons de Charles d'Orléans Claude Debussy
Dieu! qu'il la fait bon regarder! (1862–1918)
Quant j'ai ouy le tabourin

Kirsten Arbogast, mezzo soprano
Yver, vous n'estes qu'un villain
Heather Holmquest, soprano
Sarah Christiansen, alto
Matiia Tucksen, tenor
Jonathan Picht, bass

I said: it is too early in the morning,
I shall go back to sleep for a little:
Let the young people share out their prizes [from the festivities];
Coolness will be my friend and companion;
I have found him to be closer to me [than other people's company].

III

Winter, you're nothing but a villain;
Summer is pleasant and gracious
As its heralds, April and May, bear witness with every evening and morning.
Summer clothes the fields, woods, and flowers
In its livery of green
And many other colors
By nature's command.
But you, Winter, are too full of snow, rain, wind, and sleet.
You should have been banished into exile.
Without any flattery, I shall speak my mind:
Winter, you're nothing but a villain.

have set my king on Zion, my holy hill." I will tell of the decree of the Lord: He said to me, "You are my son, today I have begotten you. Ask of me, and I will make the nations your heritage, and the ends of the earth your possession. You shall break them with a rod of iron, and dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel." Now therefore, O kings, be wise; be warned, O rulers of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear, with trembling, lest he be angry, and you perish in the way; for his wrath is quickly kindled. Blessed are all who take refuge in him.

Let Evening Come Brian Holmes
(b. 1946)

O Whistle and I'll Come to Ye arr. Mack Wilberg

TRANSLATIONS

Three Songs of Charles D'Orléans (Claude Debussy)

I
Lord! How fair she is to see
This gracious, good, and beauteous lady;
For all the great virtues which are in her
Everyone is ready to praise her.
Who could tire of her?
Her beauty always renews itself.
On neither side of the sea
Do I know any lady or maiden
Who is so perfect in all virtues.
It is a dream even to think about her:
Lord! How fair she is to see!

II
When I heard the drum sounding,
to call everyone to the May festivities
As I lay in bed I was not disturbed
Nor lifted my head from the pillow;

Jill Kimball & Kaeli Porter, soprano
Ellen Macomson & Julia Sarewitz, alto
Derek Larson & Sam Derting, tenor
Paul McBride & Christopher Olin, bass

Why do the nations conspire, and the peoples plot in vain? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord and his anointed, saying, "Let us burst their bonds asunder, and cast their cords from us." He who sits in the heavens laughs; the Lord has them in derision. Then he will speak to them in his wrath, and terrify them in his fury, saying, "I
