of Maceio, Priscilla performed Mozart Piano Concerto No.13 KV415 with the Symphonic Orchestra of her city, the OSR, at the age of 13. With the support from SHSKI (Student Helping Street Kids International) Priscilla could travel to United States in 2008, 2019 and 2010 during July in order to give solo piano recitals in several cities of the state of Oregon. Currently, Priscilla is studying music as a freshman at the University of Oregon in the class of Alexandre Dossin. She intends to graduate in Piano Performance in four years.

Rex Darnell was born in Los Gatos, California, a suburb not far from the much larger city of San Jose, but spent most of his life in Campbell, California. He began taking piano lessons at the age of four, but it was not until 2003, when he began studying under Prudence Choi that his understanding and appreciation of the piano began to expand tremendously. His interest and dedication to the instrument took shape during these seven years and he ultimately decided to designate the study of classical piano as his main focus. Throughout high school, Rex competed in a variety of local and state piano competitions, and also gained some experience as an accompanist. In addition, he regularly performed for multiple community nursing and retirement homes, and these performances, perhaps more so than my formal competition experiences, illuminated his understanding of music's wonderful effects on people of all personalities and backgrounds.

Arsen Gulua was born into a family of musicians in Kharkov, Ukraine. At the age of five, he began studying piano with his mother and within a year was accepted into the Kharkov Special Music School as a student of Professor Krivonos. In 1991, his family immigrated to Israel where he studied with Itzhak Kossov. In 1998 he went on to study composition at the Rubin Academy in Jerusalem with Menachem Zur and Ari Ben
