

ABOUT DANKOOK UNIVERSITY

provide faculty, staff and students with opportunities to expose themselves to global standards. International summer/winter schools are designed to welcome students from sister universities and non-affiliated institutions. Global Talent Network is a student organization that consists of Korean and international students. It seeks to promote mutual-cooperation.

There is an extension campus in Cheonan, a city in South Chungcheong province. The Cheonan campus includes the largest hospital in the region and one of Korea's top dental programs, as well as the only four-year Mongolian Language and Literature Department in Korea.

The university now features 20 undergraduate colleges and 10 professional graduate schools divided between its new Jukjeon campus, constructed in 2007, and its Cheonan campus. Both campuses have international exchange programs and are home to foreign students and faculty from countries such as the United States, China and the United Kingdom.

The international presence at Dankook continues to grow thanks to its collaborative relationships with more than 90 universities from 30 countries, including Stockholm University in Sweden; California State University and Ohio Northern University in the USA; and La Trobe University in Australia. These relationships have fostered international summer school programs, student exchanges, and short-term visits.

The university hosts a student body of about 20,000 and employs an instructional faculty of about 630. The university's mascot is the bear, which is why each campus has a bronze bear statue.

Recording of UO concerts and events without prior permission is prohibited.

Performances sponsored by the UO School of Music and Dance are sometimes video recorded and photographed for a variety of uses, including both live simulcast and digital archive on the UO website, or for publicity and publications. Images of audience members may be included in these recordings and photos. By attending this event, audience members imply approval for the use of their image by the UO and the School of Music and Dance.
