

Figure 4.3 A multinetview of how the power elite is drawn from three overlapping networks of people and institutions: the corporate community, the social upper class, and the policy-formation network. The power elite is defined by the thick lines.
